Mission Statement

The mission of the Medical Reserve Corps is to engage volunteers to strengthen public health, emergency response, and

Who is the Medical Reserve Corps?

The MRC citizen volunteers are doctors, nurses, mental health care professionals and non medical people who want to be active and support their community . They volunteer to assist their communities in preparing for, responding to, and recovering from different types of emergency events. They are our neighbors, our friends and our family. We strive to gain a better understanding of emergency preparedness to support local response partners.

Public Health
Prevent. Promote. Protect.

When does the MRC operate?

The MRC meets several times a year to train for different types of response situations.

The MRC can also be called to action during various emergency situations in order to assist their local communities.

Frequently Asked Questions

Who can volunteer?

ANYONE can volunteer for the MRC, not just medical professionals.

Which Medical Reserve Corps can I join?

On the back of this pamphlet is the contact information for the MRC's in Region 2. You can serve the one most local to you.

Do I have liability protection?

Yes, after your initial MRC training you will be protected under CT General Statutes Title 28.

Why do we need volunteers?

We recognize that in the event of a public health emergency, our volunteers are our most valuable resource. The initial response to a public health emergency is ALWAYS a local response. Volunteers provide an infinitely useful resource.

Once I Volunteer, how often must I participate?

We meet and train on different topics at least four times a year. We recognize that it may not be possible to attend every session. As a volunteer you can be called upon to assist, however it is always your choice whether or not to respond, be it a training event or an emergency event that impacts our community.
